What's in your #Walletcard?

Sometimes you just have to have fun with your hobby.

Sure, for many of you out there reading this cards are definitely part business — a way to make money to help fuel a collection or a way to help pay the bills.

But for many of us, cards are far beyond that. It's what we do ... all the time. It's what we think about first when we go to the store for groceries. It's what we think about first when we check our email in the morning. It's our main focus of our free time and more.

It's a way of life.

Sure, sometimes collecting can take a break for the important things that pop up in life — but we don't have to ever be far away from cardboard at all. We don't need a wax pack or a card shop visit to do that. We don't need a Target or a Walmart to do that, either.

All you need is a #Walletcard.

Long before Twitter came along, broadcaster Bob Costas was known for keeping a battered 1958 Topps Mickey Mantle All-Star card in his wallet, a reminder of his childhood hero and a different time in his life that he could take everywhere with him. For someone who is Costas' age, baseball cards were a bit different back in the day.

"This was part of our connection to the game," Costas once told USA Today. "We didn't have all the highlight shows. Though some games were on television, they were in black and white. Most of the games, you listened to on radio. There was a less direct connection, a certain distance."

Today, in an age of instant constant communications via Twitter and live-streaming everything (including baseball card breaks), cards are, indeed, different than they used to be.

My #Walletcard choice is a predictable one — and due to its size it can be top-loaded.

But they don't always have to be.

For some collectors, the idea of a #Walletcard is one that has gained traction online — simply for fun — with status updates that include their #Walletcard and, if you haven't figured it out, there's a hashtag to go with that, too.

Out at a lunch and your barbecue needs some baseball for whatever reason? Walletcard. See something stupid but don't want to add your mug along with it for a selfie? Walletcard. At a ballgame and need an autograph of your player but don't have anything to get signed? Walletcard. (Ok, maybe not on that one — but mine is a 2013 Topps Allen & Ginter Nick Swisher mini, so I top-loaded it just in case.)

With social media, of course, it can also be a bit of a game, a competition if you will, for those who choose to showcase their Walletcard often. (For some of us it's just more of a Costas-like kind of thing to do.)

For Portland, Ore.-based collector Gavin, aka @breakdowncards on Twitter, it was something started for fun. His walletcard for 2015? An unprotected 1988 Topps Tony Gwynn All-Star.

Why?

"Can't go wrong with a Gwynn," he wrote. "The '88 Topps All-Stars are so-bad-they're-good."

Other Walletcards out there include a 1976 Topps Traded Oscar Gamble — you should know why — a 1987 Topps Reggie Jackson Turn Back The Clock, a 1988 Donruss Tom Brookens, a 1980 Topps Gorman Thomas and ... so many more where fans see something in their card.

Sure, a Walletcard isn't one that will age well as we all know how photos, documents and other things can look after months or years inside a wallet, but the condition of the card really isn't the point with this one. It's like Costas' keeping a piece of the fun stuff, the good times, along with you at all times.

Why? Simply because you can.

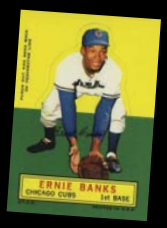
LET'S Collect TWO



Ernie Banks leaves a rich cardboard legacy after a life dedicated to baseball

By Chris Olds | Editor | Commentary

"Mr. Cub" is now undoubtedly playing two.

Ernie Banks, the face of the Chicago Cubs for nearly 20 years as a player and for decades after that, died on Jan. 23. He was 83.

A two-time MVP and 14-time All-Star, Banks was a first-ballot Hall of Famer in 1977 after a 19-year career spent all with the Cubs. He retired with 512 home runs and 1,636 RBI — a career where his statistics were as matched by his enthusiasm for being at the ballpark, his "Let's play two!" phrase one that identified a career. Banks was named to the MLB All-Century Team in 1999, and he received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 2013. It was that attitude and perseverance that was noted by the Commander in Chief as the baseball legend received the highest civilian honor.

"That's 'Mr. Cub' — the man who came up through the Negro Leagues, making $7 a day, and became the first black player to suit up for the Cubs and one of the greatest hitters of all time," said President Barack Obama. "In the process, Ernie became known as much for his 512 home runs as for his cheer and his optimism, and his eternal faith that someday the Cubs would go all the way."

Banks made his MLB debut in 1953 at age 22 after playing for the Kansas City Monarchs and serving in the military. He joined the 500 Home Run Club in 1970 at age 39, his next-to-last season.

A steady presence on cardboard as he was on the field, Banks had been a regular on the autograph show circuit — regularly signing at the National Sports Collectors Convention — as well as a signer for trading card companies. He appeared on 3,603 different cards in the Beckett database and 945 of those are certified autographs. In all, his card collection is valued at $62,490.66 excluding rarities.

Banks' lone Rookie Card appears in the 1954 Topps set — a release that also includes debuts for fellow sluggers Hank Aaron and Al Kaline. Banks is topped only by the former career home run leader when it comes to value. His final card as an active player appears in the 1971 Topps set. (You can see all of his standard Topps cards from his career beginning on Page 12.)

"Words cannot express how important Ernie Banks will always be to the Chicago Cubs, the city of Chicago and Major League Baseball. He was one of the greatest players of all time," said Cubs chairman Tom Ricketts in a statement. "He was a pioneer in the major leagues. And more importantly, he was the warmest and most sincere person I've ever known."

Join us for a look at Banks' cardboard and his career with this selection of 20 cool cards …

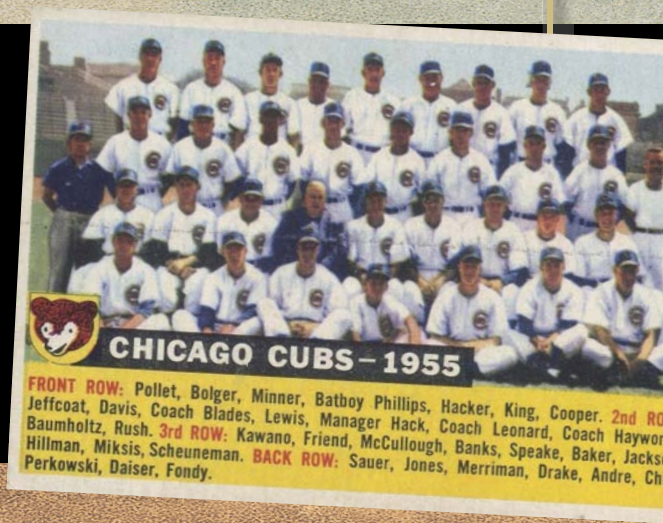
THE HIGH-GRADE ROOKIE

1954 Topps #94 Ernie Banks RC. $1,500 (raw)

Banks' Rookie Card is one that's in demand based on its raw price, but a high-grade copy is both more expensive and more elusive than you might think. Only 532 copies of the card have been slabbed by Beckett Grading Services (www.beckett.com/grading) and only four have come back with a grade of a BVG 8. None have graded higher. The most-common grade for this card is a BVG 4 (68 copies). This particular card sold for $3,049 after 18 bids on eBay back in November. In lower conditions — even when professionally graded — you can pick this card off for much less than a legendary price.

THE LONE VINTAGE BOWMAN CARD

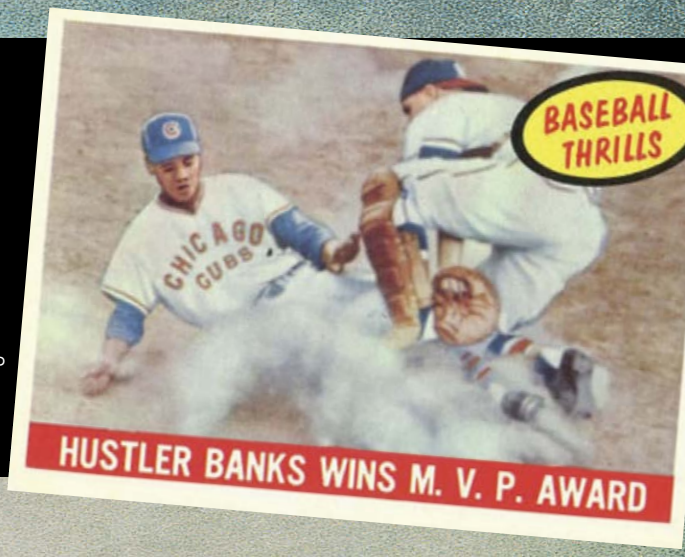


1955 Bowman #242, $350

Trivia time: How many Bowman cards did Banks appear on during his playing days? Just this one. Bowman missed him in 1954 but was gone by 1956. Want more Bowman-Banks trivia? Although Topps revived the brand back in 1989 and has made plenty of cards with the name, there are only three modern-era Banks Bowman cards out there. In 2013, his 1955 card was reprinted in the 2013 Bowman Rookie Reprint Blue Sapphire Refractors set. Banks also signed 10 copies of the card. The only other Banks Bowman is a 2013 National Convention creation in the style of 1952 Bowman.

EARLY CAMEO

1956 Topps #11B Chicago Cubs TC/Dated 1955, $80



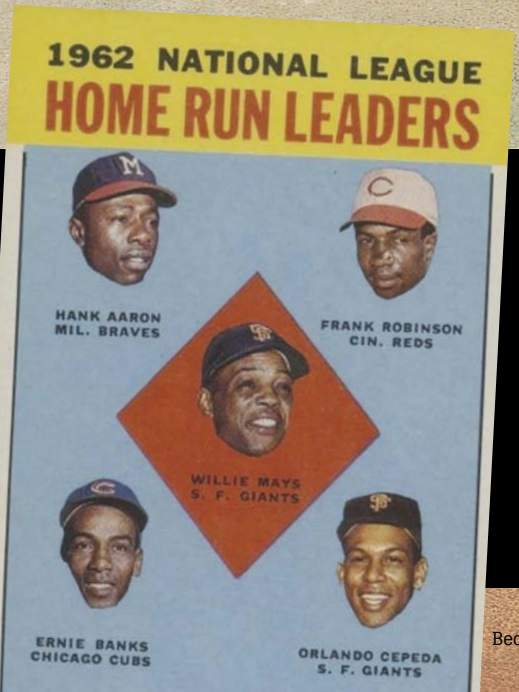
When 1956 Topps arrived, the set included something that the company had never tried before — team cards. There are three versions of this card because of changes to the black bar — one with the year, two without — and this one is the most-expensive of the bunch. (The others are $30.) What makes this card interesting? The Hall of Famer cameo, of course, but that's not all. While we get Banks as the third player from the left in the third row, we also get appearances on these cards by long-forgotten batboys (mentioned by name), managers and coaches. One coach here? Dutch Leonard.

EARLY ACTION

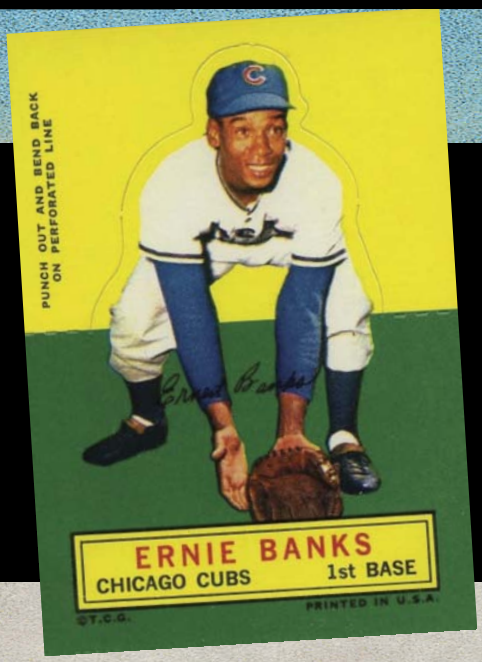
1959 Topps #469, $20

Action photography in early Topps sets can be pretty hit and miss as photo and color printing technology just didn't work as smoothly as Banks in the infield. Ten cards in the 1959 Topps set are labeled Baseball Thrills where notable moments are highlighted, and one of them is Banks' 1958 MVP award. The card back details how Banks' win came in historic fashion (on a bad team) but that he deserved it after a league-leading (and ultimately career-high) 47 home runs. Banks went on to win the MVP again in 1959. Interestingly Banks also has three other cards in the Topps set that year — a total that seems high for the time.

ELEGANT HONORS



1960 Topps #560, $60

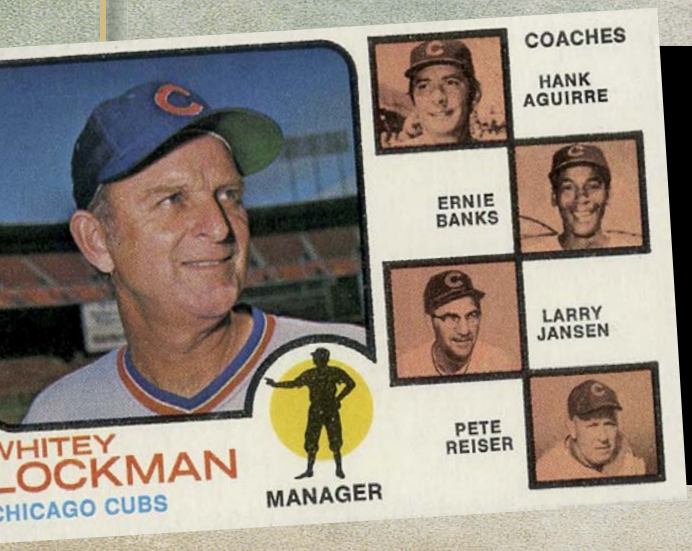


The horizontally designed 1960 set includes these simple and elegant All-Star cards that belie the look of the standard set a bit. (It's not bad — these are just that good.) This card recaps Banks' power-hitting in recent years and notes some interesting trivia for the time. During the 1958 season, Banks hit five grand slams — a record that still stands today for the National League. (Albert Pujols tied him in 2009.) The MLB and AL record is six by Travis Hafner in 2006 and Don Mattingly in 1987.

LEGENDARY COMPANY

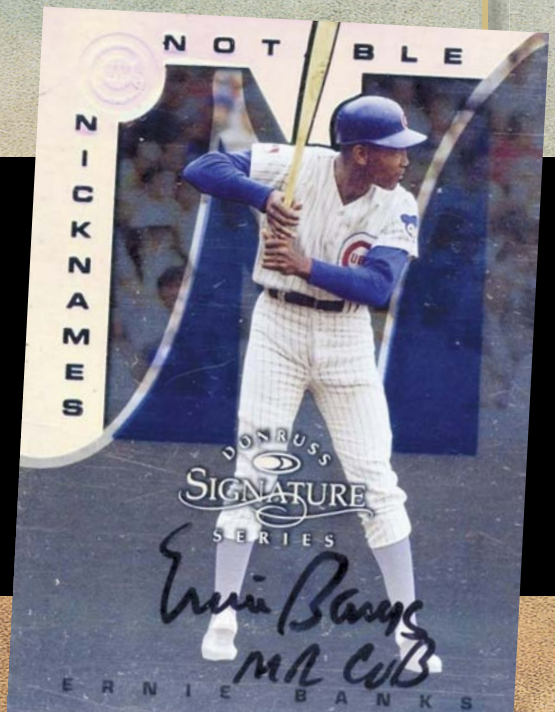
1963 Topps #3 NL Home Run Leaders with Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Frank Robinson, and Orlando Cepeda, $40

One card, five Hall of Famers and 2,892 career home runs. It would be hard for any card to top this total with only five players. Four of the five, including Banks, are members of the 500 Home Run Club.



TECHNOLOGY OF THE TIME

1964 Topps Stand-Ups #7, $100



Just in case finding complete or good-condition cards wasn't challenging enough, this release of 77 cards is packed with some pricey short-prints. Banks isn't one of those, but he's still pricey in this set, which has each card perforated to be folded for the player to stand up. Higher-grade copies of this one also carry a pretty strong price — if you can even find them.

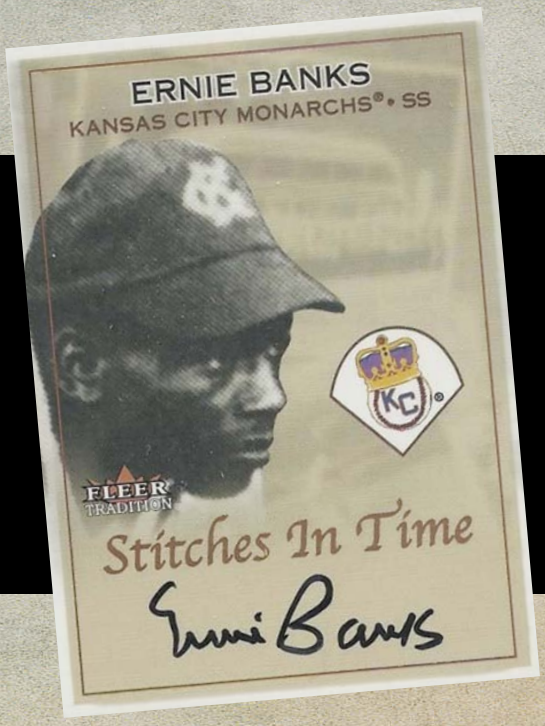
COACHING CAMEO

1973 Topps #81B Whitey Lockman MGR (natural backgrounds), $1.50

There are two versions of the 1973 Cubs manager's cards but that minor design change is not why this card makes this list. Banks' final Topps card as a player appears in the 1971 set and he's here as a member of the Cubs' coaching staff. He has a few appearances on team cards 1972, 1974, 1976 and 1977, for example, too, before countless appearances in MLB products with retro inclusions in later years.

FIRST MLB INK

1997 Donruss Signature Notable Nicknames #1 /200, $150



Banks' first certified autographs were signed for Front Row in 1992 and those were followed up by an appearance in the 1993 Nabisco and 1996 Canadian Club releases. His first MLB-approved ink, though, was this card released by Donruss in 1997 along with a Significant Signatures card that was 10 times more plentiful. Banks was a prolific signer, appearing on 952 different autograph cards in the Beckett.com database and there are probably still more on the way with previously signed 2015 releases such as Heritage and sticker autos to come in the future.

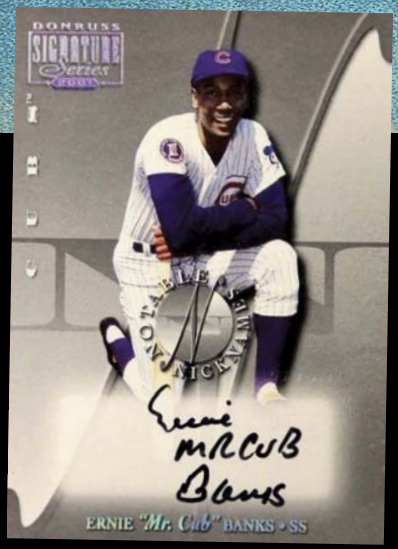
WRIGLEY'S CAMEO

2000 Topps Stadium Autograph Relics #SR3, $100

Wrigley Field is the only home park Banks ever knew as a big-leaguer and this Topps creation includes a piece of the park along with an autograph from the Hall of Famer in one clean and crisp design package. These were found only in Series 1 jumbo packs at one-in-165 odds. Most cards included pieces of bases and it looks like this one has part of a base's outer exterior.

KANSAS CITY THROWBACK

2001 Fleer Tradition Stitches in Time Autographs #1, $80



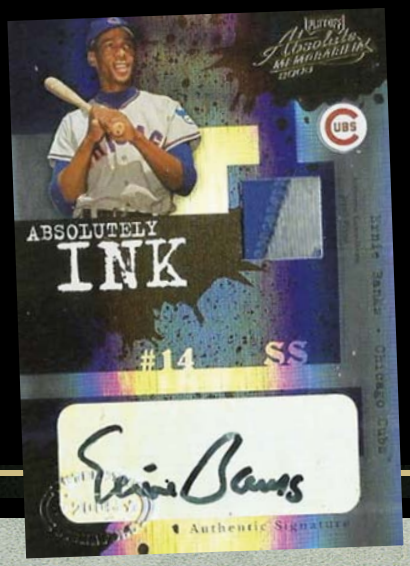
Banks' time as a member of the Kansas City Monarchs wasn't lengthy — it was interrupted by military service and the Cubs came calling not long after the Korean War ended. Banks' presence on Negro League cards isn't big, but this seven-card auto set is one that's worth noting. Signing along with Banks were Joe Black, Monte Irvin, Willie Mays, Buck O'Neil, Ted Radcliffe and Artie Wilson. Banks and Mays are the biggest draws.

THREE OF A KIND

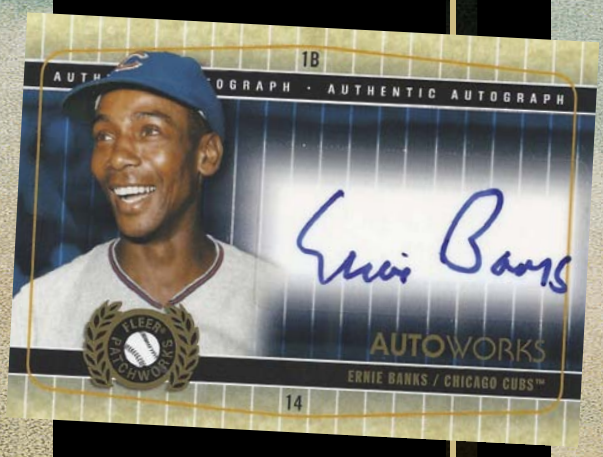
2001 Leaf Rookies and Stars Triple Threads #TT4 with Andre Dawson & Ryne Sandberg, $25

Triple Threads … back on 2001? That's something for another story, but the story here is that three powerful Cubs batters' game-used jerseys all appear on the same card. Interestingly, Dawson and Banks only have 21 cards together — this being the first — while Banks appears on 101 with Ryno. Among the 10-best power seasons in Cubs history, Dawson ranks sixth with his 49 homers in 1987, while Banks' 47 in 1958 is ninth.

THE NICKNAME



2001 Donruss Signature Notable Nicknames #1 /100, $120



"Mr. Cub" is one of the best nicknames in sports — though there's also "Mr. Tiger," "Mr. October" and "Mr. Padre" out there. One of Banks' first MLB autos included his nickname but there are a handful of other options, too. This is one, and it's one of the most-plentiful versions around.

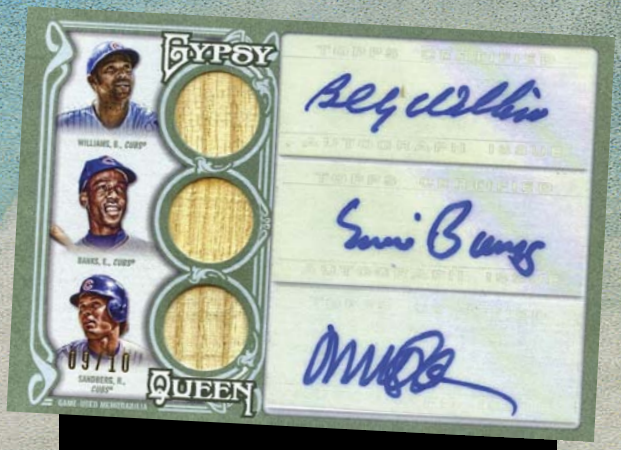
RARE INK

2005 Absolute Memorabilia Absolutely Ink Swatch Single Spectrum Prime #14 JSY /1, $N/A

Count this writer down as a big fan of 2005 Absolute Memorabilia, a brand that included some serious cardboard inside its wrappers. This 1/1 Banks is one of 45 different cards for the Cubs legend in the product and, believe it or not, there are 22 other 1/1 Banks cards in there.

SUPER STICKER

2005 Fleer Patchworks Autoworks Gold #EB, $60



This creation in the final year of Fleer baseball cards is one that's great because of its simple design and quality photograph. And it's also great in that it's a clean crisp autograph — and it's on a sticker. It's often not easy to praise sticker autos, but this one looks good.

LEGENDARY SHORTSTOPS

2005 Upper Deck Hall of Fame Signs of Cooperstown Quads Auto. Silver #BSAY w/Ozzie Smith, Luis Aparicio, Robin Yount, $N/A

Want one card that sums up a position's place in MLB history well? This one is a candidate with the autos of four Hall of Fame shortstops in one place. There are only 10 copies of this card, but Banks appears on 120 others in the product. Of those cards, 61 are signed.

CHICAGO'S BIG THREE

2013 Topps Gypsy Queen Relic Autographs Triple #WBS w/Ryne Sandberg & Billy Williams /10, $N/A

Three of the biggest bats in Cubs history went into this one — literally — with a piece of game-used bat nestled alongside a sticker autograph for each of these players. Fans looking for a Ron Santo appearance here might be surprised to hear that Santo only appears on 10 different cards alongside Banks. For comparison, Williams shares 23 different signed cards with Banks.

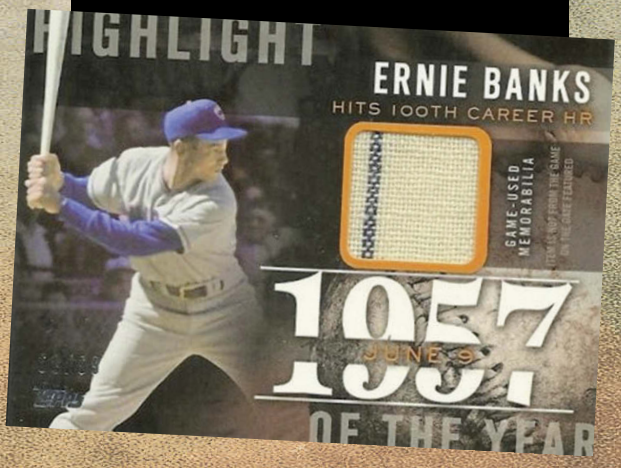
BARRELS OF FUN

2014 Panini National Treasures Bat Barrels #70, $N/A

This 1/1 creation is just the 13th Banks bat barrel card to be made since the first ones arrived for this legend back in 2003. Each of the cards is a 1/1 except for two cards that are limited to just two. Do the math there and it shows that just 15 bats have ended up as barrel cards. That's an impressive number when you consider how much game-used material has been used through the years.

RELIABLE SIGNER

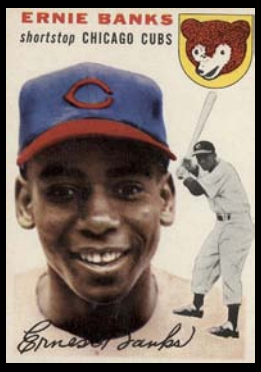
2014 Topps Heritage Real One Autographs #ROAEB, $150



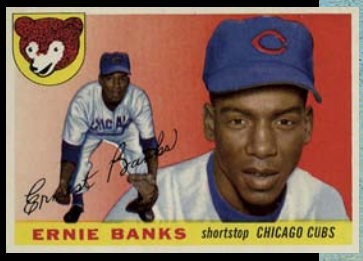
Topps Heritage is in just its 15th year this season and if you want to try and land a Banks autograph the Heritage brand might be one place to look first. Before the arrival of the 2015 set, Banks appeared on 38 different auto-graphed cards since 2003. (He didn't appear in the brand the first two years.) That's an average of three auto cards a year ... every year.

BRAND-NEW CARDBOARD

2015 Topps Highlight of the Year Relics #HYREB /99, $N/A



The newest Topps product includes four Banks cards in its Highlight of the Year inserts. One is the standard card, another is an autograph limited to only 25 copies, one is this standard Relic and the last is an autographed Relic limited to 10. With stickers, Banks could have autographs on cards for some time.



Vintage VITALITY

ERNIE BANKS was known as the eternal optimist, a symbol of all that was good even when his team consistently wasn't. 'Mr. Cub' was a constant on cardboard for decades well after his playing days ended, but here's a look at all of Banks' regular Topps cards made in his playing days — a collection that begins with 1954 and ends with 1971.

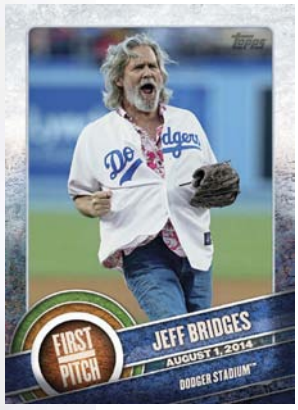
Celebrity ceremonial first pitches make for fun inserts

By Chris Olds | Editor

THE DUDE AND A SEVEN-NATION army might be impressed.

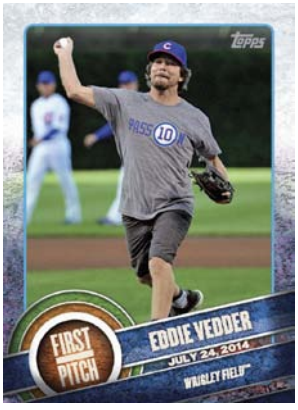
A 15-card set of ceremonial first pitches are among the baseball cards in this year's first release, 2015 Topps Series 1, which arrived on Feb. 6.



Among them are actor Jeff Bridges, musicians Jack White and Eddie Vedder, Olympic gymnast McKayla Maroney and even rapper 50 Cent, whose notoriously bad first pitch at a New York Mets game has become the highlight reel of legend. Why do they have cards? simply because each of them threw out the first pitch at a game last season.

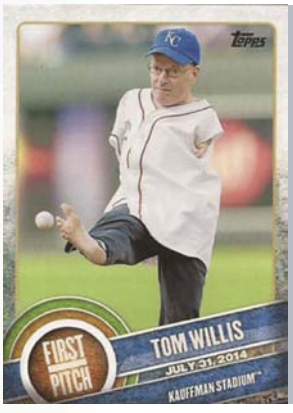
Also among those showcased are a 105-year-old named Agnes McKee, who threw out the first pitch at a Padres game last July, a man named Tom Willis who threw out a first pitch at a game despite being born without arms — something he has done in 22 ballparks so far — and 20-year-old Bae Suzy a singer-actress from Korea.

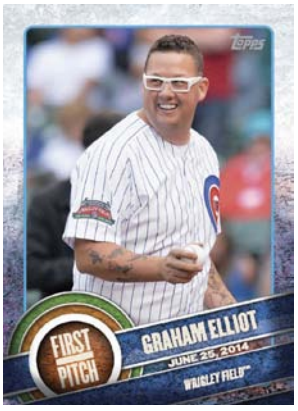
Here's a look at all of the cards.



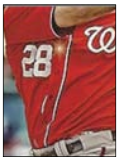
2015 TOPPS FIRST PITCH CHECKLIST

FP-01 Jeff Bridges — Los Angeles Dodgers
FP-02 Jack White — Detroit Tigers
FP-03 McKayla Maroney — Chicago White Sox
FP-04 Eddie Vedder — Chicago Cubs
FP-05 Biz Markie — Oakland Athletics
FP-06 Agnes McKee — San Diego Padres
FP-07 Austin Mahone — Atlanta Braves
FP-08 Jermaine Jones — Los Angeles Dodgers
FP-09 Tom Willis — Kansas City Royals
FP-10 Graham Elliot — Chicago Cubs
FP-11 Tom Morello — Chicago Cubs
FP-12 Macklemore — Seattle Mariners
FP-13 Suzy – Los Angeles Dodgers
FP-14 50 Cent – New York Mets
FP-15 Meb Keflezighi — Boston Red Sox





Tom Willis threw out the first pitch at a Kansas City Royals game despite being born without arms — something he has done in 22 ballparks so far.



Sparkles & Variations

As Yogi Berra would say, "it's deja vu all over again" with 2015 Topps using sparkle effects in short-printed variation cards along with photograph variations to help make collectors look more closely at their cardboard. While Topps did not confirm or detail its variations, we have compiled the following card galleries from 2015 Topps Series 1 …

Sparkles

❑ 5 Josh Donaldson (sparkle found on bat)

❑ 6 Jayson Werth (sparkle found on chest)

Summing it up

What happens when you take the most-collected main product of each and every year — and the first of the year — and add more cards, more color and more inserts? We'll find out here soon.

That's just part of the formula in 2015 Topps Series 1, which arrived packing 350 cards in the base set, cards of celebrities, plenty of variations to chase and an action-packed look that's sure to entice some and perhaps simultaneously ruffle the feathers of some traditionalists. We like that.

Ultimately, the formula here is still quite similar to past Topps releases with one autograph or Relic per hobby box and then one auto and two Relics of some type per HTA Jumbo box. While the design is colorful and much more textured than past releases, this one is ultimately still something very, very traditional — a showcase of rich photography. (Check out the Tim Lincecum and Bryce Harper cards for examples.)

New this year are framed parallels — think last year's reprints with metal edges only this time they're of today's cards — along with the First Pitch cards, Archtypes and Highlight of the Year cards. Also back are the Clear parallels, while the Pink, Camo, Gold and Black parallels take on a different look with more style on their borders. Take a look at the autograph checklists in this one and you'll see some pretty big names in some insert sets — though that also means those sets won't be as plentiful. (That's the economics of cardboard these days.)

On a traditional product with a long lineage, it's perhaps not as easy for a card company to make such a radical change as has been done with Topps visually this year. However, this is one shake-up that this collector likes quite a bit, and I'm betting plenty others out there will, too. — Chris Olds

What's Cool

Key parallels

This box shows what's possible with parallels and some help from the Cardboard Gods. Landing a Black parallel of a top rookie and a Rainbow of a top retiree equals win.

First Pitch

The 15-card First Pitch set is one that will get non-collectors ripping into packs to find celebs who threw out pitches before MLB games. What was surprising here was that we got a third of the set in a single box.

Redesigned Relics

While the entire product has a new look to it this year compared to past standard Topps releases, the design of the Relics stands out as one that should get some attention.

Topps hopes 10th time is charm

By Chris Olds | Editor

Topps' run with Allen & Ginter baseball cards turns 10 this season and the company isn't holding much back when it comes to the unusual inclusions that have made the brand a staple.

The company's first reveal of 2015 Topps Allen & Ginter in January includes buyback autographs from past Ginter releases, a new helping of autographs from past Ginter signers and even a 10th anniversary parallel.

Each 24-pack hobby box will include a mix of three autographs, Relics, cut autos, buybacks or Rip Cards per box with the Rips falling one per case when it arrives on July 22.

The model for this one hasn't changed. The standard set will be 300 cards capped by 50 short-prints found one in every other pack. The mini parallel lineup will include standard, A&G, black-border, no-number (limited to 50), an A&G Flag back (/25), Wood (1/1) and printing plate (1/1) versions to chase. The red-bordered mini packs will once again be found one per case. There will be a 10th anniversary base card parallel where each card is limited to only 10 copies.

This year, the metal parallels return this time with serial-numbering to just three copies, while cloth cards are back and also limited to 10.

Buyback mini cards from Ginter in 2006, 2007 and 2008 will be included in packs with a 10th anniversary logo stamp and be found one per hobby box. Full-size buybacks will be found two per box. Buyback autos will be found with frames and then also previousframed autograph cards will be issued as buybacks as well. (One is an original card signed and framed. The other is a framed card with an added stamp.)

Also to be found will be 100 A&G buybacks of original cards from the 1800s.

On the new autograph front, only a handful of players were teased by Topps. There will be a lineup of baseball signers and non-baseball signers along with Red versions limited to 10 and 1/1 cut autographs to be found, too.

Rip Cards are back with five possible inclusions inside — original art pieces, Red autos (/10), mini exclusives, mini Woods (1/1) and metal minis (/3). Double Rip Cards also return with cards only found inside of them as well as possible Red buyback autos that are stamped with a 10th anniversary logo. Also to be found are Mini Rip Cards with a mini mini inside or a redemption good for a full set of framed Relics.

The Relic lineup this year will include three types of Relics — a mix of framed and standard Relics that will not be found at the same time in the same box. Relic booklet autos will be limited to only 10 copies and have an autograph as well as a memorabilia piece for the player, while some will have two players' autos.

For standard-sized inserts, there will be Starting Points (player debuts), Ancient Armory (weapons), Menagerie of the Mind (mythological creatures), What Once Would Be (past visions of the future), What Once Was Believed (past concepts) and Great Scott! (discoveries).

For mini inserts, there will be six types of cards to be found (seeded one in every five packs). They are First Ladies (presidents' wives), Hoist the Black Flag (pirates), Birds of Prey, Mythological Menaces, World Beneath Our Feet (bugs) and a set of Magnates, Barons and Tycoons.

Ginter has had a healthy lineup of box-toppers in the last decade and this year's version will include nine different versions. Among them are Pride of the People (monuments), Reprints (base cards of 10 players), Cabinet Relics (game-used jerseys), Cabinet Book Relics (two jumbo pieces) and a lineup of new box-loader player cards that includes Relics (/25), autos (/15), auto Relics (/5) and even 1/1 cut autographs.

A preliminary checklist was not released.

Donruss revisits more classics

DONRUSS IS BACK for 2015, too.

Panini America revealed in January the first glimpses at and the basic details of 2015 Donruss, a follow-up to the surprise release of a year ago that prompted two series of cards after several years on the bench.

Set to arrive on Feb. 25, it will include three autographs or memorabilia cards in every 24-pack hobby box with buyback autographs of Derek Jeter, Ichiro Suzuki, Ken Griffey Jr. Cal Ripken Jr. and Don Mattingly in the fold.

The base set will consist of 150 cards — a mix of active and retired players — while a 50-card 1981 Donruss set also will be found. The standard set as well as the 1981 set will have parallels. There will be nine types of parallels with none numbered to more than 99 copies.

The base set will consist of 150 cards — a mix of active and retired players — while a 50-card 1981 Donruss set also will be found.

Among the insert inclusions will be a five-card Tony Gwynn Tribute set, a new 30-card offering of All-time Diamond Kings, a 20-card Production Line insert and a Signature Series insert. Production Line will be limited to no more than 49 copies per player, while the Signature Series will showcase 95 players — only 30 of them rookies. Production Line will have an autograph parallel, while a third autograph set will be called Preferred Pairings. Among the younger signers will be Rusney Castillo, Javier Baez and Kennys Vargas.

Preferred makes a baseball comeback as a 40-card insert set with diecut Cut to the Chase parallels limited to no more than 49. Rated Rookies get the diecut treatment in an oversized 10-card set that will also have a Gold version for collectors to chase.

Each box will include more than 50 insert cards. A preliminary checklist was not announced.

Inception packs just the hits

ONE BOX, FIVE hits — that's the Bowman Inception model for this year.

Topps revealed the first glimpses and basic product information for 2015 Bowman Inception in January. It's the third installment of the hit-driven brand that will arrive on July 8.

Each pack will include four on-card autographs and one autographed Relic — a mix of rookies and prospects. There also will be one Bowman Inception auto — an "Inceptioned" version of the player's 2015 Bowman card — per eight-box case.

Those will be found with new parallels this year — Orange (/25), Red (/5) and 1/1 Black versions.

New this year will be Origins autos of rookies, prospects and veterans signing on-card. These will be limited to 25 copies with Red (/5) and 1/1 Black parallels. The Bowman Black autos will continue for another year with those numbered to 25 with a Red parallel limited to five.

The standard cards of prospects and rookies will have five parallels per card — Green, Gold, Orange (/25), Red (/5) and 1/1 Blacks.

The Autographed Relic lineup will include top prospects and rookies with Green, Gold, Orange (/25), Red (/5) and 1/1 Blacks.

Signed jumbo patch cards will have Reds limited to only five and 1/1 Black cards as well. Also in the mix will be Logoman autos (1/1s) and Letter Book Cards that have a full letter patch from a jersey. Those will be limited to only two copies per player.

Also to be found in this one will be autographed Relics showcasing players from the Futures Game. The Future Stars Auto Relics will have pieces from the game and be 1/1 creations, while they also will have 1/1 laundry tag parallels. Also to be found will be Quad Auto Relic Books limited to just 10.

Production quantities for parallels not mentioned were not yet finalized, but the cards were not serial-numbered. A preliminary checklist was not released.

Minors get big-league feel in Debut

ONCE AGAIN, Topps will let many minor leaguers make their pro debut in Pro Debut.

That's 2015 Topps Pro Debut, the first release of the year for Minor League Baseball — a brand where we get the look and feel of the big leagues with the logos and players still down on the farm.

Set to arrive on May 27, Pro Debut will include two autographs and two Relics as well as a 200-card base set with four parallels per card — Gold, Orange (/25), Red (/5) and 1/1 Blacks. Also to be found are printing plates.

On the Relic front, new this year will be Pennant Patches manufactured Relics, while game-used Relics are rebranded as Fragments of the Farm. Those cards will have Gold, Red (/5) and 1/1 Black parallels as well as 1/1 printing plates. Returning from past years will be mascot patch manurelics.

Among the standard inserts will be Distinguished Debuts — a 25-card set showing first-year players from last season — as well as Promo Night Uniforms, which will feature photography from the unusual games that often occur in the minors.

Autographed cards will have four parallels per signer — Gold, Orange (/25), Red (/5) and 1/1 Black — while Dual Affiliation autos will pair on cards with parallels limited to five (Red) and one (Black, printing plates).

A preliminary checklist was not released.

Legends only live forever on cards

While we often think of our athletic heroes as being superhuman, none of them are truly immortal.

By Ben Aguirre

Ernie Banks, known to many as "Mr. Cub" and remembered for the famous words "Let's play two," died in January at age 83. He was anything but your prototypical shortstop. In fact, he was the precursor to the slugging shortstops such as Cal Ripken Jr. and Alex Rodriguez who followed decades later. He slugged 512 homers during his 19-year career and tallied a career batting average of .330. Think about that for a minute.

In the hobby, he also was a legend. Perhaps no other Cubs player or personality enjoyed a following as strong as Banks. Predictably in the hours and days after Banks' death, hobbyists scrambled to find his autographed cards and original vintage cards.

That's no knock on those who bought — or sold — during that time. This is simply how we as collectors celebrate the lives of our legends.

Banks is the latest face of baseball's Golden Era of stars, the names and faces upon which this hobby of collecting baseball cards was built, who has passed away. This got me thinking: Who are the top living legends who are still with us from the 1940s and into the 1960s?

For purposes of this exercise we'll use age 75 as a cut-off for the list. Every player on this list has a Rookie Card from sets ranging from 1948 Bowman through 1962 Topps. The list is a strong one, but sadly the candidate pool is dwindling. While we often think of our athletic heroes as being superhuman, none of them are truly immortal.

So, without further adieu, here is a list of the top living legends, along with a list of their accomplishments and some card stats.

Willie Mays

AGE: Turns 84 in May
ROOKIE CARD: 1951 Bowman
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 680
When compiling a list of the greatest players, no discussion could be complete without the inclusion of Willie Howard Mays Jr. The face of the Giants in New York and in San Francisco, he ranks fourth on the all-time home-run list and is an absolute treasure to the game. He is considered to be one of the most well-rounded players to ever put on a uniform. He had power, speed and was a fantastic defender during his career. In the hobby, his name carries the weight of a generation. He is without a doubt the greatest living Hall of Famer. His RC will cost a pretty penny regardless of condition. His signature has deteriorated over the years, but they are available. I'd recommend an on-card example from the early 2000s.

Hank Aaron

AGE: Turned 81 in February
ROOKIE CARD: 1954 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 688
For more than three decades, Hammerin' Hank held the title of home run king after slugging 755 homers during his 23-year career. While he is technically second now on the all-time list behind Barry Bonds, his place among the baseball legends is stronger than it has ever been. Mays may be at the top among the living legends, but Aaron isn't far behind. Not only was he the premier slugger, he was just a nasty hitter. He ranks third on the all-time hits list, is still the leader in RBI, and finished with a .303 average. His RC will cost you at least $250 in any condition. Like Mays, his signatures have gotten worse-looking over the years, but there are plenty to choose from.

Yogi Berra

AGE: Turns 90 in May
ROOKIE CARD: 1948 Bowman
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 1,036
Talk about treasures of the game, Berra is perhaps one of the greatest characters MLB has ever seen. His witty comments have made him one of the most-celebrated faces and his name is synonymous with success. He is a 10-time World Series champion (let that sink in), a three-time MVP, and he caught Don Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series. His RC hails is in the inaugural Bowman release and is a tough find under $150 in any condition. Centered copies without paper loss will cost you two to three times that. His autos are plentiful and not too expensive. The quality of his ink has remained consistent.

Frank Robinson

AGE: Turns 80 in August.
ROOKIE CARD: 1957 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 1,143
Is there a more underrated living Hall of Famer than Robinson? He is a Rookie of the Year winner, a two-time Most Valuable Player and one of only 14 players with a Triple Crown, a feat he reached in 1966 — his first year with the Orioles. He's a member of the 500 Home Run Club, finished his career less than 100 hits shy of the 3,000 mark and is a two-time World Series champion. He wasn't exactly a media darling, which could have affected his public perception, but he is one of the greatest players. His RC can be had for less than $100, and his autos can be found for about $20.

Bob Gibson

AGE: Turns 79 in November
ROOKIE CARD: 1959 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 1,332
If there was an award for intimidation, Gibson would have won every year that he suited up for the Cardinals. This iconic right-handed fireballer was no-nonsense on the mound. He's a two-time Cy Young winner, including his first in 1968, the year in which he authored one of the greatest seasons ever. He went 22-9 with a 1.19 ERA and a WHIP of 0.85 and also earned MVP honors. He also led the Cards to a pair of titles in the 1960s. His RC is tough to find centered – it is part of a high-series set that is considered to be short-printed. His autos are readily available and can be found in the neighborhood of $20.

Sandy Koufax

AGE: Turns 79 in December
ROOKIE CARD: 1955 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 387
Koufax clearly deserves his spot in the Hall of Fame and is easily considered one of the best left-handed hurlers the game has ever seen. But his career was relatively short — only 12 years. His early years also were hardly anything to write home about. But something clicked in 1961 when he led the NL in strikeouts. That set the wheels in motion for five years of sheer dominance. He led the league in ERA for five seasons, earned three NL Cy Youngs and an MVP award. There was a time when his autographs were harder to find, but they are available via various Topps products. His RC is still a tough find for under $250 in any condition.

Whitey Ford

AGE: Turns 87 in October
ROOKIE CARD: 1951 Bowman
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 957
The Chairman of the Board was the left-handed ace for the Yankees during their title runs in the 1950s and 1960s. He helped New York to six titles, including in 1961 when he earned the World Series MVP after being the league's top pitcher in the regular season. He went an astounding 25-4 during that campaign. Ford's RC is from the 1951 Bowman, and his signature is fairly plentiful.

Brooks Robinson

AGE: Turns 78 in May
ROOKIE CARD: 1957 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 1,158
When it comes to the hobby, collectors are rarely enamored by a player's defensive skills. In the case of Robinson, it is hard not to pay attention. He earned 16 consecutive Gold Gloves at third base, a position noted for its toughness. He slugged a career-high 28 homers and knocked in 114 runs in 1964 en route to earning an AL MVP. He also aided the Orioles to a pair of titles. His RC will set you back at least $50 in any condition. His auto has never been tough to find and you can get one for less than $20.

Carl Yastrzemski

AGE: Turns 76 in August
ROOKIE CARD: 1960 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 1,379
Perhaps the greatest living Red Sox player, Yaz is only one of three living Triple Crown Winners. He accomplished the feat in 1967 by hitting 44 homers, driving in 121 runs and hitting a career-high .326. His crown came a year after Frank Robinson, but he was the last person to do it until Miguel Cabrera 45 years later. Aside from that historic season, he spent 23 seasons in MLB, amassing 3,419 hits, 452 homers and an MVP award. His RC is probably the cheapest of those on this list as it can be obtained for under $40 if you're not too strict on condition. His signature is a series of complicated pen strokes that can be described as "chicken scratch" but it'll cost you more than his Rookie Card.

Lou Brock

AGE: Turns 76 in June.
ROOKIE CARD: 1962 Topps
NUMBER OF CERTIFIED AUTOGRAPHS: 849
Before Rickey Henderson lifted third base above his head and declared himself the greatest base-stealer in history, there was Brock, who spent 19 seasons in MLB and collected 3,023 hits and stole 938 bases with the Cubs and Cardinals. Brock's skill on the basepaths is really what set him apart from the pack. He led the league in stolen bases eight times, including a career-high (and still NL record) 118 bags at age 35. He's also a two-time World Series champion. His Rookie Card shows him in a Cubs uniform – one which he wore for only three seasons – and can be found in the $35-$60 range in decent condition. Like many others on this list, his autograph is plentiful and can be had for under $20.

Panini America locks up exclusive with Collegiate Licensing Company

By Chris Olds | Editor

PANINI AMERICA HAS deals with nearly 200 more major colleges and universities under the Collegiate Licensing Company in place for products beginning this spring the company officially announced on Jan. 8, confirming previous reports on Beckett.com/news that it had signed a large number of deals.

Among the notable schools covered by the new deal are Alabama, Florida State, Michigan, TCU and Texas A&M.

"Since entering the U.S. market in 2009, Panini has quickly become a leader in the trading card category in understanding consumers and developing unique programs for its partners. Panini's management team is committed to growing the college category and using their resources and distribution capabilities to benefit our partner institutions," said Dave Kirkpatrick, Vice President of Non-Apparel Brand Management for CLC, in a prepared statement.

This deal ups Panini's presence in the college landscape immensely with Upper Deck only holding claim to Notre Dame after signing an exclusive in November. Upper Deck had held an exclusive CLC license for the past five years.

In all, nearly 500 schools — not just those covered by the CLC — have signed multi-year deals with Panini, and the college memorabilia market is a significant business. According to the CLC, more than $4.59 billion in overall licensed college goods were sold last year, while Upper Deck ranked 19th on the CLC's Top 25 non-apparel licensees list as the sole card-maker.

Panini's push for the collegiate business — at least publicly — began Oct. 23 when Panini announced deals with Kentucky, Georgia and Miami. Additional announcements included more than 220 schools through a deal with the Licensing Resource Group that was previously announced, as well as additional deals with Mississippi State, Baylor, NC State and Kansas State. A critical step for Panini in recent months, according to multiple sources, was its signing announcement with the University of Texas Longhorns, the top-selling CLC school.

"We are excited to add CLC's partner institutions to our collegiate trading card program," said Mark Warsop, CEO of Panini America, in a prepared release. "Our strong product portfolio within our professional sports programs gives us the unique opportunity to showcase professional athletes in their collegiate uniforms and will bring a wider array of product offerings on behalf of the schools and will not only benefit fans of those individual schools but college sports fans overall. We look forward to building compelling collegiate trading card products beginning in the spring of 2015."

Upper Deck issued a statement reacting to the news — one that recapped its achievements with the license and what it feels may be potential challenges ahead.

"Recent collegiate licensing changes have already sparked serious concerns from collectors, store owners, distributors and others in the trading card industry," read part of the statement. "Mismanagement of the collegiate trading card license could destroy the stability that this market has come to rely on and flood the market with an excess of products that hold little or no value. Upper Deck has worked very hard to keep this from happening and remains committed to the collegiate category and more importantly, committed to collectors and hobby shops that have come to expect the best with regards to quality collegiate trading card releases. Upper Deck has agreed to terms on an exclusive multi-year deal with the University of Notre Dame and plans to continue looking at opportunities in the collegiate market."

GO MAD
for these Max cards

By Chris Olds | Editor | Commentary

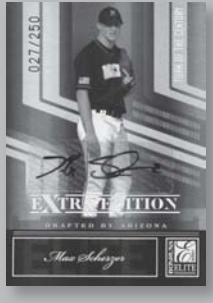
BASEBALL'S $210-MILLION MAN officially has his contract — and his baseball cards remain affordable.

Max Scherzer's deal with the Washington Nationals will last seven years. In seven big-league seasons with the Diamondbacks and Tigers, he has gone 91-50 with a 3.58 ERA and 1,321 strikeouts in 1,239-plus innings pitched. He's been an All-Star the last two seasons and was the American League MVP in 2013 when he went 21-3.

Collectors have known about the righty even longer as he made his cardboard debut back in 2005 as a member of the USA Baseball National Team.

Here are my picks for five early and affordable Scherzer cards to track down first.

GETTY IMAGES / THE WASHINGTON POST



2005-06 USA Baseball National Team Signature Black #MS /475, $25

Scherzer appears on 19 cards in the USA Baseball boxed set — and 17 of those are autographed cards of some sort. This one is his main signed card and a shockingly affordable option considering it predates most of his other ink by a notable amount of time.

2007 Donruss Elite Extra Edition Signature Turn of the Century #33 /250, $40

Scherzer's first professional autographs can be found only in Elite Extra Edition where he appears on six different cards. His most-attainable is this one, while the rest are limited to 182, 50, 12 or five and one copies per card.

2008 Bowman Chrome Draft Gold Refractors #BDP33 /50, $100

Scherzer's Rookie Cards arrived in 2008 and this card is perhaps the most-iconic of the bunch (although this is the RC's parallel). It's not too pricey because it's not autographed. He has 18 Rookie Cards for collectors to choose from. None of them typically sell for more than $50 — even if signed — so this one's price reflects its importance.

2008 Topps Update #UH280 RC, $6

The standard Topps RC seems to be one collectors draw to year after year. This one's not expensive, but it can go right there along with other notable Topps Traded or Topps Update RCs from the past in terms of some history.

2008 Stadium Club #173 AU, $30

This one-and-done release back in 2008 included hits in every pack, which meant that rookies like Scherzer and Evan Longoria signed on-card for these. While wax boxes can be tougher to find these days, the cards aren't. This one is interesting as it gives you a closer look at his heterochromia iridum or different-colored eyes. (Fun baseball trivia staring you right in the face along with an autograph — an added bonus.)

Q: How vital is vintage?

Compiled by Chris Olds

Dave said ...

It's a shame, but I don't see vintage getting much respect any more. I don't get the feeling there are many new vintage collectors popping up from year to year. It probably doesn't help that the vintage players don't show up nightly on ESPN or Twitter, either. There are generations of collectors who just have no connection to those players since they didn't grow up watching them. With all the game-used, autographs, and parallel cards, the modern hobby is much different from vintage, and I could see where there really isn't that much overlap.

Richard said ...

Simple: Without the ability to show a card that cost one cent is now worth thousands, it would be hard to get people to dream that their cards would actually grow in value, and actually justify paying for packs. The sad reality is, most cards eventually become relatively worthless. The speculation has grown so high on some players that even if they have a Hall of Fame-worthy career, the cards will still sell for less than they did in their rookie year, or right after their jumping point once they got popular. I remember the RCs of Shaq selling for a ton when he came out, now they just don't. Randy Moss Bowman Chrome RC sold for $120 ungraded, now you can a PSA 10 of it for under $25. Even if they're not growing in price at the same rate they used to, cards of players considered true legends at least are not dropping that often in price. Remember back when they issued those insurance policies to send in a complete set of Bowman and they would pay you $125? You are not likely to see that ever happen again.

Charlie DiPietro said ...

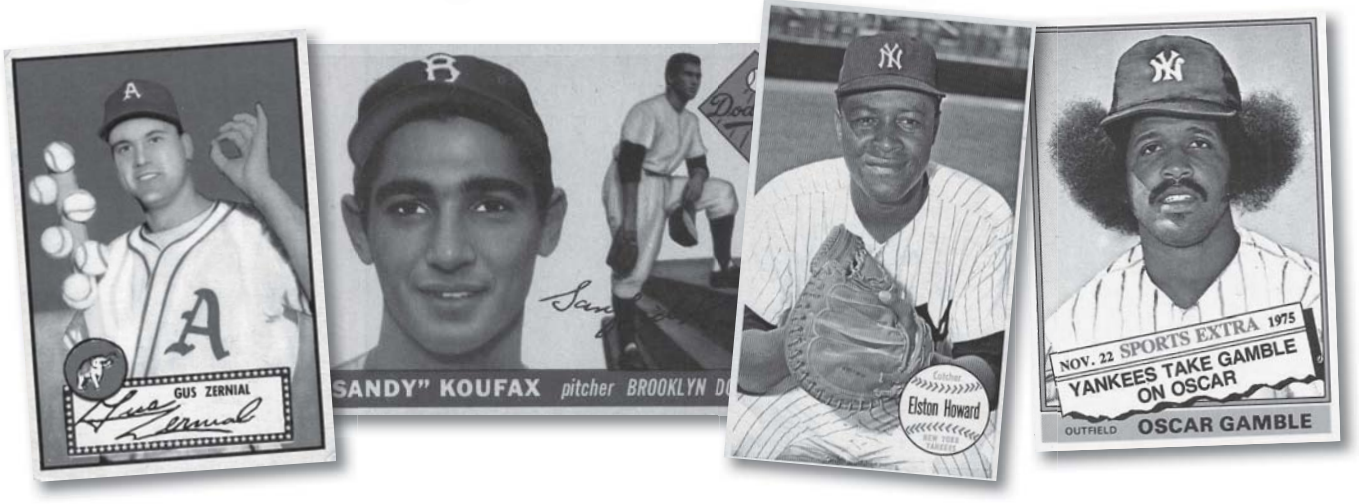
There are several segments in our hobby. New cards, vintage, autographs, memorabilia. I have observed that most often, collectors in one segment rarely cross over into one of the other segments. Vintage is the "blue-chip stock" portion of our hobby. Their value changes slowly (almost always in a upward direction). The only aspect of speculation in buying vintage is in the final determination of the grade of the card. That may be the reason that most collectors find new cards more appealing. The speculation aspect in guessing who will become a big star seems to be more appealing to most of my customers. Even within the new-card segment of our hobby, there are sub-segments: Rookie Card collectors, set-builders (yes, they do exist), team collectors, autographed card collectors, star collectors, etc. As I like to say, this hobby has something for everyone. While relatively few sports card enthusiasts collect vintage, there is a limited supply of vintage cards, especially in high-grade condition. As a result, there will always be more demand than supply in the case of vintage cards. Being a vintage card collector, I may be biased. I see vintage cards as the cornerstone of our hobby. In a hobby whose existence is closely tied to nostalgia, vintage cards are a visual representation of where it at started and why our fathers collected.

Dan said ...

If it's not vintage, it's not for me.

Jonathan W. Iwanski said ...

When a player has over 100 cards come out in one brand in a single year, it's hard to even pretend to care. Years ago, a kid could say, "I'm going to collect every Mickey Mantle card" and he could. What kid can honestly say today "I'm going to collect every card of a reasonably good player?" Vintage is here, and it's not going anywhere. I still collect new cards because the hobby is so saturated with them they're everywhere, but finding a quality card 30-plus years old is an actual challenge that goes beyond the pocketbook. I just cannot see paying hundreds of dollars for a brand-new card just because the company only made one with this certain color background. However, I can see paying hundreds of dollars for a card because it's so old there are hardly any left in the condition I'm looking for.



David Johnson said ...

Vintage is still important and isn't going away. Some people say that since there is no direct tie to some players that people don't collect them. Well, that's simply not true as there are very few people still alive today that remember watching players that are on tobacco cards, yet tobacco card s have been gaining in value over the years. As more issues come up with fake memorabilia in today's cards, some people will turn toward vintage as an alternative. What I have seen is that most young collectors want the latest and greatest cards, but as collectors get older they want cards from the past and that's where vintage really kicks in.

Phillies_Joe said ...

I think vintage, like others above have stated, is still relative and an integral part of the hobby. Problem is, most folks are priced out of the vintage market or can't justify to themselves paying a large amount for one card. Myself, I'd love a 1958 Sandy Koufax. However, for the price of one in decent shape, I can get a whole case (depending on brand, than maybe a couple of boxes) of cards that overall will give me more pleasure organizing, selling some and trading than that one card.

Summing it up

Topps' annual high-end brand has new competition in Topps Dynasty but that one has just one card per pack, making Five Star one that might be more appealing because there's safety in numbers. Not all autos in this one are big — and the serial-numbering is pretty high for a brand like this one — but you can't deny the printing quality and inclusions here if you land a good box. This one's strong but perhaps a tad too simple. Maybe one booklet card guaranteed would be an added plus? — Chris Olds

Summing it up

The Product of the Year winner in the Beckett Baseball Best of 2014 awards was this one as it's the home of many Jose Abreu autographed patch Rookie Cards,

Hall of Famer booklet cards and game-used bat knobs, too. Joining them are game-used buttons, nickname inscriptions, bat barrels outrageous patch cards … it's seemingly all in there. There's plenty of ink, a lot of prime current material, plenty of legendary memorabilia, plenty of booklets (one per box) and a steady source of Flawless gem cards (one per four-box case) making this a break that has a decent amount of variety as well as intrigue in nearly every box. This one's a winner. — Chris Olds

What's Cool

Metallic-ink autos

Our box included a pair of Golden Graphs cards signed with gold ink. Metallics are something we've seen in Five Star each year and these might be the best-looking ones yet.

Legendary duals

The only non-autograph in this box was this card of Roger Maris and Ted Williams, which is limited to only 10 copies. It's a simple — perhaps too simple — design, but it's a solid card to find.

What's Cool

Bountiful booklets

Every box will include a booklet card of some type — this one is a cut auto game-used creation with a cut auto of Harry "The Hat" Walker, who hit .363 in 1947.

Impressive patches

This Michael Choice card has an impressive multi-piece, multi-color patch along with an autograph. Interestingly, this piece is labeled as an event-used jersey. Doesn't happen a lot in baseball -- but in other sports that doesn't matter to collectors.

Summing it up

If a total of 24 cards for roughly $10 a card doesn't tell you this one's a tad higher-end, the stock should — these cards are durable and nearly every one in the box comes with an autograph. The per-card price here isn't cheap, but there's safety in numbers with this much ink inside a box. This year's design is a bit busy with a futuristic feel and some too-tough-to-read names when it comes to the typography, but it's one that definitely stands out as different from the rest. That's a plus.These boxes come with a mix of on-card and stickered autos, but on the whole even the clear-stickered cards don't look bad. If you didn't dig in on prospect brands the rest of the year, this might be one to try for the price and the volume of autos you will find.

Summing it up

Three things sum up Elite Extra Edition best — prospects, autographs and foilboard. Every box includes at least six autographs, while Hot Boxes will pack even more. The base set is a simple offering that includes some photo and player variations among the first 10 cards (see Beckett.com for details), while a basic array of insert cards offer some variety when one doesn't land an autograph. Although this one is not that expensive, buying by the box is perhaps the best way to go because the autographs are the main draw. Packs without them — unless you get a strong player via a parallel — may not be as interesting. On the whole, though, the deep auto checklist here is one that gives this brand a long shelf life with a lot of future potential.

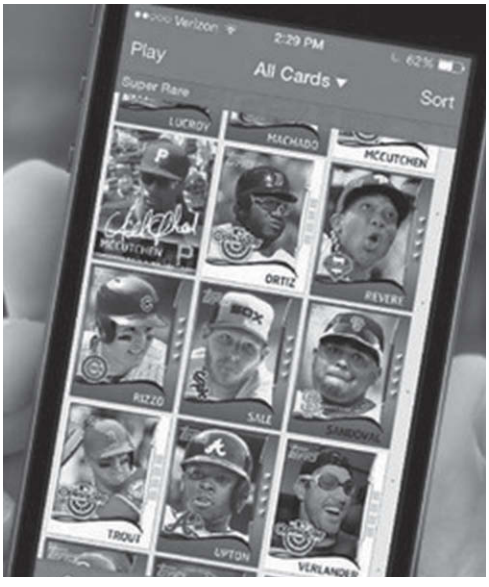
Topps adds gaming exec to board

Topps' commitment to the digital world took another step in January as it announced the hiring of Steven Chiang, a long-time video- and social-gaming executive, who was was named to the company's board of directors.

The news was announced by Michael D. Eisner, founder of The Tornante Company.

"Steven has incredible experience in the digital space and is responsible for some of the most successful sports and free to play games in the past two decades and we are thrilled to have him on our Board of Directors," said Andy Redman, Topps' Chairman, in a release prepared by the company.



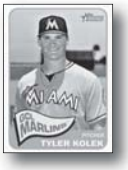
"We look forward to tapping into his passion and expertise as we continue to invest in Topps' digital division and drive for accelerated growth."

Chiang has worked in progressively responsible roles at Zynga, Electronic Arts and he co-founded Tiburon Entertainment, which was acquired by EA in 1998.

Chiang has a bachelor's of science in Electrical Engineering from Columbia University, according to the company.

"Topps is one of the most-iconic companies in the world and their sports trading cards were a mainstay from my childhood," Chiang said in a prepared statement released by the company.

"I am excited to see Topps' evolution into the digital space and honored to be joining their board and to have the opportunity to work with Topps' dynamic leadership team."



Topps' mobile card app for baseball, Topps Bunt, has been a success for the company of late with more than 50 million packs sold since the program began in the spring of 2012.

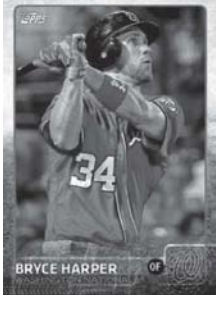
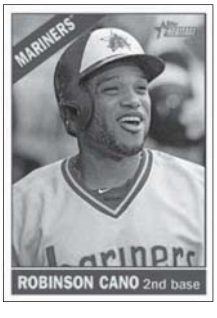
Top prospects are mystery redemptions

Two mysteries from last year's Topps Heritage Minors baseball card set have been solved.



Topps announced in late-January that top draft picks Tyler Kolek and Kyle Schwarber are the players who will be heading out to collectors who found mystery redemptions in packs of Heritage Minors this past season.



Kolek, the No. 2 pick in the draft, is a pitcher in the Marlins organization and he'll be going out to those who redeemed mystery card No. 1.

Card No. 2 will be of Schwarber, the Cubs catching prospect who went fourth in the draft. Each card is a first for the players in their minor-league uniforms. — Chris Olds

NEW RELEASES SET TO ARRIVE SOON (All dates subject to change)

2015 Topps (In stores now)
Topps begins a new year with a base set that is the largest for the company in years with 350 cards. There will be 36 packs per hobby box, while jumbos will have 50 cards per pack and 10 packs per box for HTA. Look for one auto or Relic in hobby and one auto and two Relics in HTA.

2015 Topps Heritage (March 6)
The model here is largely the same as in past years as we turn back the clock to 1966 with 425 cards in the base set capped by 75 short-prints. Returning in Heritage this year are throwback team uniform photo variations as well as action image variations that will only be found in hobby boxes.

2015 Topps Tribute (March 18)
This hit-per-pack brand is one the company promises will be "revamped to incorporate your feedback, suggestions and ideas" while including the "same upper-echelon technology the has made Tribute a collecting staple." Like past years, it will include three autos and three Relics per six-pack box.

2015 Topps Opening Day (March 20)
This long-running low-end staple returns for 2015 with a 200-card base set including 75 players who we won't see until Series 2 in the Topps flagship baseball set. All will have an Opening Day parallel limited to only 2,015 and 1/1 printing plates. New this year is a 1/1 Opening Day parallel.

2015 Topps Museum Collection (April 3)
This hit-based baseball product includes one autographed card or Relic in every pack of every four-pack box. Every box includes one autograph, one auto Relic, one quad Relic and one jumbo Relic as has been the norm in previous years for this high-end brand.

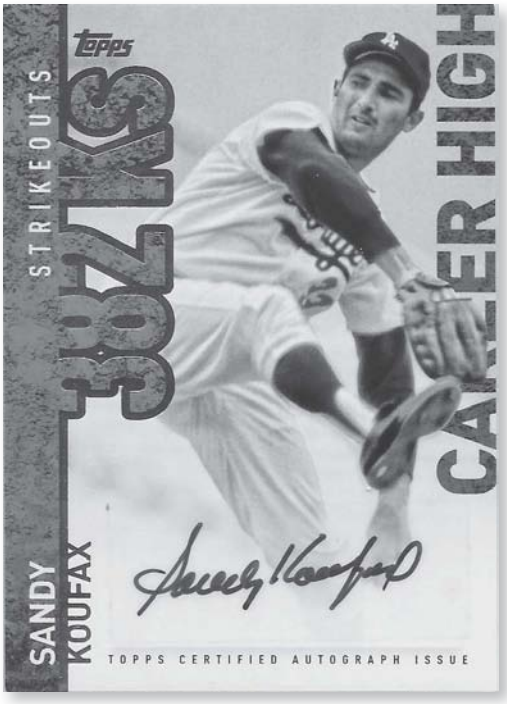
Topps' pop can't be denied



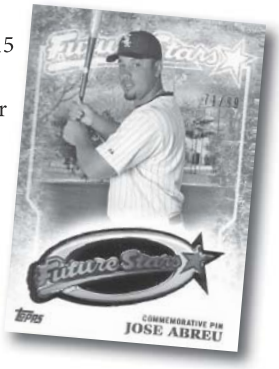
By Brian Fleischer

THE HOBBY'S FLAGSHIP BRAND has a fresh new look and secondary-market activity was as strong as ever.

Photo variations and Sparkle variations have been highly coveted by collectors as have the always-collectible Topps World Champion Autograph, Relics and Autographed Relics. The product also includes the first "true" Rookie Cards of top prospects Rusney Castillo, Jorge Soler, Joc Pederson, Maikel Franco and Javier Baez. Though not their first cards (Pederson, for example, has cards from 2010) they are their first cards to qualify for the "RC" tag.

The unnumbered Topps Career High Autographs checklist was especially strong this year. Featuring 61 different cards and sticker autographs, these weren't easy pulls, falling one in every 405 hobby packs. While commons have a book value of just $10, a strong veteran and vintage presence brings the average card value in the set up to $32.64. Top sellers include Sandy Koufax ($300), Hank Aaron ($200), Mike Trout ($200) Yasiel Puig ($120) and Chipper Jones ($80). Based on the market information that we've gathered, these higher-priced autograph cards seem to be short-printed in comparison to the other cards in the set, though Topps has not confirmed any SPs in the set. It would, however, only make sense to think that there are many more Sam Tuivailala autographs in the product compared to the likes of Koufax and Aaron. The set features the first Topps auto of the Red Sox prospect Rusney Castillo, which debuts in the $25-$60 range. Also included in the set are certified autos of two deceased stars of the 1950s — Duke Snider ($40) and Johnny Podres ($20). Snider died in 2011 and Podres in 2008, which makes you wonder just how many stickers they signed.

Manufactured relics have returned for 2015. Thankfully, we seem to be past the manufactured patch relics that were so prevalent several years ago.



This year's offering includes 2015 Topps Future Stars Pins and Logoman Pins. The pin cards have some heft to them and feature metal "pins" embedded into the cards. The Logoman Pins have been strong sellers in the $10-$15 range for unlisted players, while superstars like Mike Trout and Clayton Kershaw, along with 2014 rookies Jose Abreu and Masahiro Tanaka have been commanding $20-$25 each. The 2015 Topps Future Stars Pins Gold set are especially attractive. Serial-numbered to 99, the pin logo has a cool green, yellow and red rainbow inlay. Commons in the Gold set are bringing $15 on the secondary market with Jose Abreu's card topping the list at $40.

If the excitement and secondary market activity surrounding new-look 2015 Topps Series 1 is any indication of the year ahead, collectors are in for a great season.

Prospects heat up

As we went to print, spring training was just around the corner. After hibernating for the winter, more and more collectors are coming out of the woodwork, gearing up for the 2015 season. We've an increased number of listings on the Beckett Marketplace and on eBay and there seem to be more bidders willing to spend more money. There also seems to be an ever-increasing interest in the top prospects. As is customary at the start of every season, experts have begun to release their prospect lists for the upcoming season. Names that seem to appear at the top (or close to the top) of almost every list include Kris Bryant, Byron Buxton, and Carlos Correa. Others who seem to be in the mix include Joey Gallo, Addison Russell, Joc Pederson and Corey Seager. Savvy collectors should keep an eye on these guys this spring, as many of their key cards have started to approach or surpass current high-book levels. Finding "bargains" for many of these players might prove to be difficult, but not impossible.

New in the Price Guide

The following 2014 products are making their debut in this month's Price Guide: Bowman Chrome Mini Factory Set, Bowman Sterling, Elite Extra Edition, Leaf Trinity and Panini National Treasures. This year's Topps Series 1 also makes its debut, while the 2015 Donruss, Topps Stickers and Topps Heritage brands were all were scheduled to go live in the weeks following our deadline. Be sure to check out the Online Price Guide on Beckett.com for pricing on these products before the next issue arrives.

How to Use and Condition Guide

How To Use & Condition Guide

What's Listed
Products listed in the Price Guide typically: (1) are produced by licensed major manufacturers, (2) are widely available, (3) have market activity on single cards and (4) focus on players active at the time of issue.

What the Columns Mean
The LO and HI columns reflect current retail selling ranges. The HI column generally represents full retail selling price. The LO column generally represents the lowest price one could expect to find with extensive shopping.

Multipliers
Parallel sets and lightly traded insert sets are listed with multipliers to provide values of unlisted cards. Multiplier ranges (i.e. 20X to 40X HI) apply only to the HI column. Example: If base card A lists for 20 to 50 cents, and the multiplier is "20X to 40X HI," then the parallel version of card A or the insert card in question is valued at $10 to $20.

Pricing Premiums
Some cards can trade at premium price levels compared to values listed in this issue. Those include but are not limited to: cards of players who became hot since this issue went to press, regional stars or fan favorites in high demand locally, and memorabilia cards with unusually dramatic swatches or patches.

Stated Odds and Print Runs
Odds of pulling inserts are listed as a ratio (1:12 = one in 12 packs). If the odds vary by pack type, they are listed separately. Stated odds are provided by the manufacturer based on the entire print run and should not be viewed as a guarantee by neither Beckett Media LP nor the manufacturer.

Currency
This Price Guide reflects the North American market. All listed prices are in U.S. dollars. Based on the current exchange rate, prices in Canadian dollars are 35% to 50% higher.

Grades
Mint (MT) - No flaws. Four perfect corners, 55/45 or better centering, smooth edges, original color borders and gloss; no print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Near Mint-Mint (NRMT-MT) - Must have 60/40 or better centering, smooth edges, original color borders and gloss. One of the following very minor flaws is allowed: a slight touch of wear on one corner, barely noticeable print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Near Mint (NM) - Centering of 70/30 to 60/40. In addition, one of the following minor flaws is allowed: a slight touch of wear on two or three corners, slightly rough edges, minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Excellent-Mint (EXMT) - Centering no worse than 80/20. No more than two of the following flaws are allowed: two or three fuzzy corners, slightly rough edges, very minor border discoloration, minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Excellent (EX) - Centering no worse than 80/20 with four fuzzy corners. May also have rough edges, minor border discoloration and minor print spots, color or focus imperfections.

Very Good (VG) - Handled, but not abused. Slightly rounded corners with slight layering, slight notching on edges, moderate border discoloration, some gloss lost from the surface but no scuffing. May have hairline creases.

Good (G), Fair (F), Poor (P) - Well-worn or abused. Badly rounded and layered corners, scuffing, no original gloss, major border discol-oration and serious creases.
